Experience Penang Famous Hawker Food

Tandori Chicken *

Tandoori chicken gets its name from the bell-shaped tandoor clay oven which is also used to make naan, or Indian flatbread.

Koay Teow Sup

This popular rice noodle dish is cooked in clear soup and topped with slices of chicken/ duck meat & fish balls and garnished with garlic bits, fried pork fat and scallions.

Fried Koay Teow

Fried Koay Teow is probably the most popular hawker food among the locals. The rice noodles are fried in an iron cast wok over very high heat.

Penang Chendol Desert *

This is a popular local dessert where a bowl of finely shaved ice is topped with red beans, syrup (made of palm sugar or gula Melaka), coconut milk and soft, green starchy noodle (called the "chendol").

Penang Laksa *

It is Penang's signature dish. It is noodles in fish broth garnished with a lot of vegetables. It is spicy hot & sour because of the large quantity of tamarind used (Assam Jawa).

Hainan Chicken Rice

The chicken rice sold in Penang is usually served over a bed of sliced cucumber, sprinkled with chopped spring onion and drenched in oily soy sauce.

Penang Chee Cheong Fun

A rolled rice noodles are served with a mixture of chili sauce, shrimp paste, red sweet sauce and sprinkled with roasted sesame seeds.

Ice Kacang Desert *

This is another local favorite dessert which is made of shaved ice with different colored sugar syrup, palm sugar syrup, sweet red bean, sweet corn, grass jelly and palm fruit ("attap chee").

Roti Canai *

There are various choices of Roti Canai (pastry-like flat bread) to be added with banana, margarine, cheese, eggs, onion, sardine fish & etc.

Curry Noodle

It is made up of egg noodles and rice noodles in a coconut-milk based curry soup and served with bean sprouts, bean puffs, prawns, cockles, cubes of coagulated pig's blood, cuttlefish, mint leaves, chili paste, and sometimes eggs and chicken meat.

PENANG George Town Heritage Cycling

To discover George Town is to discover its streets. And what better way than by bicycle!

Discover George Town
more thoroughly than exploring by foot,
more intimately than touring by bus
A better way to explore by 2 wheels

How big is George Town? Can I walk the heritage trail?

The heritage zone is bigger than you might think and takes at least a full day of walking. Why not ride a bike instead? A bike will also give you the opportunity to explore the heritage areas outside the official UNESCO boundary line.

Is biking safe in George Town?

Yes! Our licensed heritage guides lead your group on a weekend morning when traffic is less, following marked bicycle routes and pedestrian crossings. And for that extra peace of mind, we provide you with a helmet, a reflective vest, and PA insurance coverage

RENTAL

Want to ride at your own pace? You can rent a bike rent for only RM25/day from one of our two convenient locations at:

1. Tanjung City Marina @ Pengkalan Weld (Beside Jetty Bus Terminal)
2. Komtar Walk @ Jalan Dr. Lim Chwee Leong
